

Please do not change the Wisconsin Do Not Call Law. Since the law was put into effect, I have received drastically less phone calls from telemarketers, especially credit card companies and telephone services. I can now enjoy my evenings, not spend the evening screening unwanted phone calls. I am quite pleased with the way the law is working. These companies are welcome to contact me by mail, which they seem to have no problem doing. I can recycle these solicitations, rather than have to turn the ringer off my phone.
